It is too, often the case, that the enemies of a religious truth, hate it, because they are not acquainted with it. Therefore, they will ascribe to their opponents principals, which they abhor, and never dreamed of. And tenets which never entered into their imagination. They propagate the most ridiculous columnies against the professors of what they call an obnoxious religion that can be thought of. Oh! let the time come when such will have an end.

WE have often thought what a good world we could have if every body was under the influence of God's Holy word. what we mean by this is if every one from the knave to the king on his throne would obey the Divine injunction Love your neighbour as yourself there would be on need of civil law. Every man could sit under his own fig tree and no one dare molest or make afraid. And this time must some day come to pass according to Revelation.

THE POOR

There is thousands of poor people in the world today in destitute circumstances, and many of them are destitute of the Gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and still to a great extent trusting in the power, which have brought them to that condition. That is, Monopolies hand. But we trust they may soon see that they will have to trust in the true and living God, who will bring their deliverance to pass; at the hand of a power of an endless life.

How NECESSARY, it become those who profess to be christians, to live up to the christian measure laid down in the word of God. For there is no mistake but that if a man or a woman who profess to be a christian do something that is dishonest or impure the eyes of world are on them, and will see it and then it is satan's delight to have it told and especially to the weaker vessels in faith so that as many souls may be destroyed as possible. Wherefore let us lay aside the weight and sin that doth so easy beset us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us looking to Jesus the Author and Finisher of our faith.

A STEADY, aim in this life, with a strong arm, and willing hands and a resolute will, are the necessary requisites, for the conflict, which begins anew each day, and writes upon the page of yesterday the actions that form one mighty column, where from true worth is estimated.

One day of idleness causes a break in the Great Chain, that years of toil may not be able to repair. Yesterday was ours, but it is now in the past and for ever gone; and today is all that we can call our own, for tomorrow we may never see. Therefore, in the golden hour of the present, the seeds are planted whereby the harvest for good or evil is to be reaped.

Oh! may the seed we plant, be seeds of kindness—And may they fall into the soil of purity, and may they spring forth into a tree of Nobleness, by which the Golden Chain of hope are trod, in to the City of a Living Christ.

TANNING

Tanning done in JAH-Ville by the colony people. All kinds of leather made.

THERE was a time when the spirit that is now called Satan had his abode in the realms of Heaven's day—And did enjoy the presence of God Almighty, and the company of the Angelic Host of Heaven, but he was not satisfied with the great pleasures of having the third ruling power in the Paradise of God. He must try to rob God of His Glory, and take His Throne if possible. But this he was not able to do; and so he was cast to earth, and once here he became as a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour—He is no more satisfied now than he was in Heaven, and so it is with those that follow his pernicious ways, they are discontented, seeking the advantages of their fellow men just as Satan tried to do when he was in Heaven.

But we trust the day may soon come when we as a people of God may be all one.

SYMPATHY.

Education is truly advanced when there exists a true and natural sympathy—sympathy between the teacher and the one who is taught.

Intellectual and moral culture are greatly held in check by a want of fellow-feeling between teacher and pupils. True sympathy, and honest fellow-feeling must not be confounded with pity, a sentimental attribute of compassion or a deep tenderness for the inevitable misfortunes of others.

Sympathy, requires a certain degree of equality in social recognition and circumstances. While hatred looks upon its object, not only as suffering but as weak and inferior.

Sympathy encourages to a nobler effort. Cruelty leads its object to a miserable condition; no matter whether it be physical, intellectual, or moral—Sympathy lifts its victim up by its encouraging acts—While cruelty enfeebles by depressing ambition and its dampening and offensive acts.

Sympathy encourages self-help. But cruelty fosters the idea of depending everything it comes in contact with.

Sympathy reaches out its blessed fingers into the turmoil of this life soothes the heart and pacifies the weary soul with the kindness of everlasting day; its motto is to do unto others as we would wish them to do unto us.
